First reported at least back in 2020 to Valley Water that there were several sizeable Hale Creek concrete wall gaps/cracks in our shared property that allowed squirrels to tunnel and an earth patio foundation material to the surface. Oftentime the mounts were 12-18" in height. At the time my porch foundation was cracking. I consistently patched the tunnels with soil, rocks, water, etc to deter squirrels (sometimes with poisons) with no success since

In detail, describe the damage or injury (Please attach additional sheets if necessary):

the squirrels had escape routes through the concrete wall gaps. I have been working with Valley Water through present. Now my patio foundation is sinking. I lived in this property for 30+ years. These problems are observed in the recent 4-5 years. I did all the abatement I could but no success. The tunnel problems are even worst today. If Valley Water addressed the gap problems, in time, my patio & foundation won't be sinking.

While a segment of the channel lining behind your home has been scheduled for repair, due to staff workload, channel repairs can only be performed in 2025 at the earliest. Please let me know if you wish to proceed with the fence replacement at this time. Valley Water will then begin circulating your fence cost share permit for review. Construction must be completed before the permit expiry date.

Any fence removal or damage caused by future channel repair operations will be replaced by Valley Water in kind.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
